Dear Mr. Elkins,

After viewing the documentary For Love of Liberty: The Story of America's Black Patriots, I am writing this letter to express my support of this important and significant film.

This thought provoking piece transcends racial barriers while documenting an important part of African American contribution to America.

The talented Mr. Frank Martin uses a fascinating documentary-style that brings the experiences and portrayals of these all but forgotten American heroes into vivid focus. He conveys the emotions experienced first hand by those brave men and woman who made the ultimate sacrifice for our country and for love of liberty. It is important that this documentary work be seen by the American public.

It has been my pleasure to observe such a heart-felt cinematic work which recounts this country's history and the contribution of the African America patriot in such respectable manner. It is because of and by those measures that I am a supporter of this project.

Respectfully Yours,

Vicangelo Bulluck
